Service Process

- Customer visits the service center for registration
- Payment of fees for first-time international vaccination card holders, or those who wish to be issued with a replacement, as well as payment of a consultation fee
- Customer will advise the doctor of his/her current health condition, medical history, previous vaccinations and the destination to which he/she is traveling
- Based on the results of the medical examination, the doctor will provide advice and guidance, answer all questions regarding the patient's condition and recommend the appropriate vaccination
- Payment of fees according to the type of vaccination recommended
- The vaccination should be provided according to the doctor's recommendation and the international vaccination card should be updated accordingly

Required Documents

- Emirates National ID
- Health card issued by Emirates health services for residents residing in the UAE exempting them from paying consultation fees

Conditions & Requirements

1. Customer visit the clinic one to two weeks before traveling and provide information about his/her current health status, medical history, previous vaccinations and destination. The doctor will then determine the type of vaccine required.
2. Vaccines should not be administered to any patient who has previously experienced an allergic reaction to any component of the vaccine
3. A medical certificate is required for people with immune deficiencies and cancer patients who are undergoing treatment
4. Vaccines should not be administered to patients with moderate to severe health conditions at the time of vaccination
5. In case of traveling children, ensure that all vaccinations are administered according to the National Immunization Program based on the doses specified for the stage of childhood development
6. UAE nationals and residents must pay for the first-time issuance of an International Immunization Card, as well as a replacement fee in case of card loss
7. Immunization for the purpose of travel is free of charge for UAE nationals regardless of whether or not they hold an EHS Health Card
8. UAE residents in the country who hold a valid EHS Health Card are exempt from doctor consultation fees
9. UAE residents are not exempt from vaccination fees, regardless of whether or not they hold a valid EHS Health Card
